

Financial Stewardship Resources for Parishes

Financial stewardship for parishes

Financial stewardship is a shared responsibility that supports the life, mission, and sustainability of each parish. It calls for thoughtful planning, transparent practices, and a spirit of generosity rooted in faith and accountability. When approached intentionally, stewardship strengthens ministry, builds trust, and enables parishes to respond with confidence to the needs of their communities.

This section brings together practical financial stewardship resources designed specifically for parishes. It is intended to support clergy, wardens, treasurers, and lay leaders as they plan budgets, manage resources responsibly, and foster a healthy culture of generosity. The tools and guidance offered here can be adapted to local contexts and used at different stages of parish life, whether addressing immediate financial pressures or planning for long-term sustainability.
